CHAIDMAN'S STATEMENT.

It's hard now to know what to pay for. There are so many things we ought to do without, anddon't forget it-will likely have to do without before long. But the very last item in a household-which should and will remain after all sorts of things have been retrenched - will be WHITE'S WAFER OATMEAL

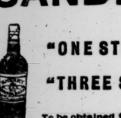

Getting IT

When thinking what to pay for think of VALUE, maximum food-value. When you do that, you naturally think of Ireland's richest and tastiest and most economical Rolled Oats. For it you pay little-and get much. You do yourself and your pocket GOOD. You also do your Country GOOD-by saving.

TOUDING:

Colonet Institute the case was a remarkable one, inasmuch as there was evidence to where the fire started in the middle of the right, and as no one had been there for twelve house before there was no smouldering fire there or he would have seen it. The circumstance of the door having been tampered with showed that it was not an accidental burning.
He awarded £350 for the house, and the full amount, £770, for the furniture.
